Booklets and video instructions

TLU offers booklets on:

- Study skills
- Writing groups

Our booklets are available at The Teaching and Learning Unit or at Student Advisory Services.

The booklets can also be accessed online at:

http://samf.ku.dk/pcs/english/for\_students/.

We have gathered 12 short tutorials on study techniques. Find and watch them here:

Individual counselling

We offer individual study progress counselling to students who experience challenges in relation to their studies. The guidance could be about:

- Study techniques and work habits
- To make the best of the academic supervision
- The structure of written assignments
- The content in written assignments (language, building blocks, argumentation)
- Techniques for oral presentations
- Task process and planning

Please note that The Teaching and Learning Unit:

- Is not a substitute for the academic supervision

- Do not offer proofreading

Courses on demand

Would you like a course on e.g. how to write better assignments, how to handle oral examination, group work or academic reading?

At TLU you find study consultants, who are ready to offer courses within the following areas:

- Learn how to read faster
- Get more out of your studies – about reading and notation techniques
- Make well-structure presentations
- The good writing process

All it requires is that you collect a group of 15 fellow students and write to us at:

pcs@samf.ku.dk – together we will find a date and work out the content of the course.
